British Prime Minister Begins Talks in Moscow

LEGISLATORS BOOK LIGHT SCHEDULES

HARRISBURG (AP)—A move to increase a $1,850,000 appropriation for the Pennsylvania Industrial Development Authority developed in the Republican side of the Senate today.

Sen. James S. Berger, Senate GOP floor leader, said Sen. George B. Stevenson (R-Clinton) had mentioned plans to seek more money for the authority. The appropriation already has been approved by the Democratic-controlled House.

Stevenson was unavailable for comment.

Berger said he did not know the specific reasons for seeking an increase.

Commerce Secretary William R. Davlin had estimated the need for industrial development funds between now and the end of the biennium, May 31, at "upwards of 2 million dollars."

The 1957 Legislature appropriated 3 million dollars for the fund and the 1955 session authorized 5 million. This latter spending money, however, did not become available until mid-1956 because of the prolonged '55 session, which did not adjourn until June 1956. Davlin said the original 5 millions and the 3 millions from the last session all had been committed by last November.

The Senate returned today for a Monday afternoon and Tuesday morning session. The House does not return until 11 a. m. Tuesday. It also has a Wednesday session.

The two chambers booked light schedules in anticipation of the annual Pennsylvania Manufacturers Ass'n. dinner Tuesday night. Gov. Lawrence is to speak at the affair.

Meanwhile, Chairman Edward J. Kessler (R-Lancaster) of the Senate Finance Committee, said he has received a considerable number of complaints from small merchants against the proposed increase of the state sales tax from 3 to 3½ per cent.

Four Tots Lose Lives in Trailer Fire in Jersey

BRANCHVILLE, N.J. (AP)—Four children huddled in bed in their family's house trailer were killed today when an oil stove exploded.

Eileen Henderson, 26, mother of the children, was visiting in a nearby home at the time. She was burned trying to rescue the youngsters.

Their father, Robert Henderson, was at work.

The trailer was attached to a one-room cottage in Frankford Township, in the northwest part of the state. Both were leveled by flames.

Police said a heater in the doorway connecting the cottage and the trailer blew up.

Killed were Linda, 6; Robert Jr., 5; William, 4; and Barrett, 2. Mrs. Henderson at the time was visiting in the home of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Barrett Henderson, about 100 feet away.

Volunteers Seeking Doctors Missing on a Mercy Flight

BERLIN, N. H. (AP)—Scores of volunteers today plowed through deep snow on the White Mountains while spotters flew overhead in a search for two doctors missing since last Saturday on a 70-mile mercy flight.

Authorities expressed fear for the safety of Dr. Ralph E. Miller, 60, an experienced pilot, and Dr. Robert E. Quinn, 32, both members of the Dartmouth Medical School faculty.

They disappeared at 3:30 p. m. Saturday while flying in a single engine plane from Berlin to Lebanon. They had gone to Berlin to treat a heart patient.

The temperature Saturday and Sunday nights was about 15 degrees below zero.

Guards posted on Sunday night said they saw no sign of any outdoor fires in the mountainous region. Authorities said it would be difficult to survive outdoors for more than 24 hours.

Some 20 air National Guard and Civil Air Patrol planes and two helicopters scanned the area.

Mr. Miller is chief pathologist at the Mary Hitchcock Hospital in Hanover and a professor of pathology at Dartmouth Medical School. He is the father of two children, one of whom, Ralph, Jr., was an Olympic ski champion.

Dr. Quinn is an instructor of medicine at Dartmouth Medical School. He also is the father of two children.

A pathologist, Dr. Miller testified at the so-called "mercy killing" trial of Dr. Hermann N. Sander in 1950. Dr. Sander was acquitted in connection with the death of a woman cancer patient.

THREE ARE ACQUITTED IN FRAUD TRIAL

LEWISBURG (AP)—Three of the seven defendants in the conspiracy trial involving construction of the 33 million-dollar Army Signal Corps Depot at Tobyhanna, Pa., were acquitted today by Judge Frederick V. Follmer.

The 73-year-old jurist dismissed the three men — Joseph Rochez, Pittsburgh contractor; John B. Kemmel, a Philadelphia painting contractor; and Herbert B. McGlinchey, a former Democratic congressman from Philadelphia — after government prosecutor Oliver Dibble failed to oppose defense motions for their acquittal in U. S. District Court.

Still on trial are Rep. William J. Green D-Pa. who is Democratic boss of Philadelphia, and three others: John P. Gilboy, former Scranton engineer whose firm designed the depot; Frederick J. Raff, Hartford, Conn. plumbing and heating contractor, and Robert Brown, Merchantville, N. J., whose firm built four of the depot warehouses.

Attorneys for the seven defendants and the government met behind closed doors in the judge's chambers this morning. Afterwards, the attorneys came into open court where Dibble announced he was not opposing motions for acquittal of Rochez, Kemmel and McGlinchey.

The trial has been in recess since last Monday when the government rested its case.

Green and the six others are charged with conspiracy to cheat the government in the (Turn to Page Twelve)

Space Expedition To Mars In Ten Or Fifteen Years

WINTER PARK, Fla. (AP)—The first U.S. manned space expedition will land on the planet Mars in 10 to 15 years, scientists predict.

"In the not too distant future such a trip can be made and has to be made," the Army's top space experts said Sunday.

Dr. Werner von Braun, technical director of the Army Ballistic Missile Agency, and three of his colleagues outlined the journey in a lecture at Rollins College.

Von Braun described the expedition as "the crowning achievement of the man-in-space program now in progress."

The scientists said the round trip, using two giant spaceships, would be completed in 32 months.

The best opportunity will come next on Aug. 6, 1971, when the two planets are in closest relation—34.6 million miles.

Lancaster County Boro Flooded Out Twice This Spring

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP)—River floods this winter have forced tiny Washington Boro to consider giving up its independent status as a community.

"There is no alternative," said Emerson W. Kane, the burgess, or mayor, of the little farm town. "We will consider a merger with adjoining Manor Township at its next board meeting, March 4."

Washington Boro, on the banks of the Susquehanna River, has 483 people and is 122 years old. It's the smallest borough in Lancaster County.

Twice this winter the Susquehanna had flooded the town, damaging nearly one-third of the homes and buildings. The townspeople have had enough and are leaving.

Houses have been torn down, Kane said, property values are falling and tax sources are disappearing.

Twenty-five tax paying residents already have left town, he added, five more are about to move and most of the waterfront homes will be torn down.

Cap-Pistol Bandit is Suspect In Previous Local Holdups

Unusual Method to Curb His Profanity

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. John F. Saylor (R-Pa.) had a problem: choice bits of profanity crept into his speech. This year he started fining himself a dime whenever he swore, handing the money to anyone who heard.

"It used to cost me an average of 50 cents a day," Saylor said. "That's pretty expensive for a guy like me, so I used more control. Now I sometimes get by with a dime."

Ike Plans Fight For Support of His Aid Program

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower is reported ready to make an even stronger fight than last year for support of his $3,930,000 foreign aid request.

Some Republican leaders say they are convinced he would veto and demand reconsideration of any bill which cut deeply into the program he proposed.

Democratic leaders have indicated they may slice the mutual assistance program, to offset increases in other outlays above the president's requests in his 77-billion-dollar budget.

With this in mind, Eisenhower reportedly has told associates he fears the United States might eventually be pushed back into a garrisoned hemisphere unless foreign military and economic aid is carried on at a high level.

In talks to Republican leaders at White House conferences, Eisenhower is said to have cited Vietnam, with 125,000 men under arms, as an example of a country where defense support is absolutely necessary.

The President's reiterated statement has had the effect of whipping up more Republican backing for the program than has been available sometimes in the past.

Federal Charges On Voting Aired At Montgomery

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—Federal charges of long standing anti-Negro voting policies in rural Macon County got their first court airing in a hearing today.

U.S. Dist. Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr.'s ruling may determine whether the Justice Department can proceed with its suit to enjoin Macon voter registrars from discriminating against Negroes.

The hearing is on a government motion to forbid Macon County officials from destroying old voter registration records which federal attorneys want for evidence.

A new state law authorizes all counties to throw away questionnaires filled out by voter applicants who were later rejected. The questionnaires are used to determine if applicants are eligible to vote.

But the real point of the hearing is to determine at whom any injunction would be directed. State attorneys say the last two Macon registrars, E. P. Livingston and State Rep. Grady Rogers resigned last December and therefore there is no one to issue a court order against.

Erie Railroad Has Wreck Near Union City

UNION CITY, Pa. (AP)—Twenty-two cars of an eastbound Erie Railroad freight train were derailed on the main line here today. No one was hurt.

The full-loaded refrigeration and boxcars left the track at the Concord St. grade crossing. Several overturned.

They were in the middle of an 88-car train headed east from Chicago. A railroad spokesman said damage would amount to several hundred thousand dollars.

The cause of the wreck was not immediately determined. Other passengers and freight trains were re-routed over Pennsylvania Railroad tracks.

This is how Melvin A. Stewart entered the Epstein Clothing Store Friday afternoon with belief he was going to conduct a holdup. His attempt was foiled as the management and a utility employee quickly apprehended the bandit. The father of five children, Stewart blamed financial difficulty for his motive. — Stokes Studio.

A cap-pistol bandit apprehended and pinned to the floor when he attempted to hold up Epstein Clothing Store Pennsylvania Avenue West Friday afternoon, languishes in the Warren county jail today in lieu of bail in the sum of $1,000 cash, or $2,000 property bond, which he was unable to furnish when arraigned Saturday afternoon before Justice of the Peace Berry.

Entering the store at 2:18 p. m. Friday with a "this is a hold-up" cry, 48-year-old Melvin A. Stewart of 9 Mohawk avenue, was quickly overpowered by store management and a utility employee.

Stewart told Police Chief Mike Evan he was "desperately in need of money and decided to hold up some place." He also said he was very pressed and was worried about the welfare of his family.

The would-be robber used his 9-year-old son's Gene Autrey cap pistol in the daylight attempt. He wore a red handkerchief across his face. Stewart had his car parked outside the store, with motor running. Fastened over the plates on his car with rubber bands was a false license plate he found in a garbage dump.

The men's clothing store, owned by three Epstein brothers, is located on the eastern end of Warren's "400-Block." Sam, Joe and Harold Epstein were in the store at the time, as were John G. Sutter, electric meter reader, and several customers.

Family of Four Saved From Death On Tiny Beacon

By CONARD CASLER

Reporter, The Corpus Christi Caller-Times

Written for The Associated Press

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP)—Leslie Schmidt and his young family, marooned three days last week on a tiny beacon in the Gulf of Mexico, lived to tell about it.

But Leslie, 23, wrote a pathetic little diary to let relatives know what happened to them. He "knew" he and his wife and three children would die there within sight of the shore, he said Sunday.

"We wrote the diary so that when they found our bones they'd know what happened," Schmidt said at the hospital where he, his wife, Sarah, 22, and the children—Leslie Jr., 3, Linda Lee, 2, and Cheryl, 10 months — are recovering.

Crewmen of a passing shrimp boat, the Carroll Ann, snatched the hungry, cold and sick family from the tiny navigation light Saturday afternoon.

The Schmidts scrambled onto the light, just 7 miles from downtown Corpus Christi, Wednesday after their 26-foot cabin cruiser broke up in heavy seas that lashed Corpus Christi Bay. Schmidt was returning to Port Aransas from returning to Port Aransas from an abortive commercial fishing venture.

DEADLOCK ON DISARMING IS DISCUSSED

By A. I. GOLDBERG

MOSCOW (AP)—Prime Minister Macmillan and Premier Khrushchev met for two and a half hours in the Kremlin today and apparently discussed the disarmament deadlock between the West and the Russians.

Only one adviser—disarmament expert Con O'Neill—accompanied Macmillan, Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and Ambassador Sir Patrick Reilly to the first formal conference of the British delegation's visit.

The official Soviet news agency in a brief dispatch after the meeting said that Macmillan and Khrushchev had "friendly conversations."

Macmillan and Khrushchev got down to formal Kremlin talks after a get-acquainted weekend in the country.

The British prime minister got second billing in the Moscow press however. The Communist party organ Pravda devoted top space to an editorial lauding the Red army—which marked its 41st anniversary Sunday—and gave only brief mention to the Khrushchev-Macmillan parley.

Macmillan and Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd returned to Moscow Sunday night after a weekend as guests of Premier and Mrs. Khrushchev at the rambling one-story villa 30 miles southeast of Moscow.

A spokesman for the two leaders said they discussed subjects of mutual interest in lengthy informal sessions before and after lunch. "The two great men got on very well together," a British source said.

It was assumed West Berlin's future and the issue of German unity were brought up.

With Khrushchev were Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan, a recent visitor to the United States, Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko and Jacob Malik, Soviet ambassador to Britain. He British ambassador to Moscow, Sir Patrick (Turn to Page Twelve)

Five are Killed In Flaming Crash Of Auto and Truck

CALLAHAN, Fla. (AP)—Five persons lost their lives in the flaming crash of an automobile and a truck near here today.

The crash occurred shortly after 4 a. m. The 1956 model car in which the victims were riding was headed north.

One of the dead was a Marine. The others were so badly burned investigators said it might be late today before identities were established.

Those who died were a woman of uncertain age; another between the ages of 15 and 25; a man about 45; and a boy about 10.

Trooper R. S. Akers said the Marine was John A. Marlow, 22, of Camp Lejeune, N. C.

Akers said a woman was driving and evidently fell asleep, because the car swerved to the wrong side of the road and smashed head on into a truck driven by Howard Lewis East of Cedarport, Ga.

East was taken to a hospital.

Two youths drowned, a man was killed in a fall down a steep hillside, and a boy was injured fatally when a shotgun discharged accidentally.

Dulles Has Third Treatment After World Affairs Talks

By JOE F. KANE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles gets his third X-ray treatment for cancer today after a respite during which he had two discussions on world affairs.

While Dulles was talking about the international situation Sunday with Vice President Richard M. Nixon and later with his brother, Allen W. Dulles, several senators were disagreeing with a suggestion that the secretary resign.

Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.) made the suggestion Saturday in St. Louis. He said he didn't think Dulles could run the State Department from a hospital.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) said later "Secretary Dulles is a patriot and I am sure he realizes the essential soundness of the suggestion made by Sen. Symington."

But Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, assistant Democratic floor leader, said he regards Dulles as almost indispensable at this time.

Sen. Homer Capehart (R-Ind.) said Symington was carrying partisan politics too far. He called Symington's suggestion very cruel and unwarranted.

Sen. John Sparkman (D-Ala.) said he saw no need for making a replacement. He said Dulles "may bounce back. If anyone can, I believe he will."

Nixon's visit with Dulles at Walter Reed Army Medical Center lasted about 45 minutes, during which they talked about the Berlin crisis.

Dulles later talked for another 45 minutes with his brother, Allen, Central Intelligence chief.

Area Families Invited to Participate in Experiment

"Live Abroad at Home" is the theme of the forthcoming Experiment in International Living which will be sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Ten young European executives will arrive in Warren on March 22 for a three week visit in the community. These young men are in business and industry in Sweden, Germany, Switzerland, Holland and Italy.

The purpose of their visit, according to David Swanson, Jaycee chairman of this project, is to give them an insight into American family and community life. Each visitor will live as a member of the family in a Warren home.

Mr. Swanson said that the Warren Jaycees are anxious to hear from Warren families who might be interested in participating in this program. He said that the only requirement is that the family be genuinely interested in making a contribution to international understanding.

All interested families will be considered, the chairman stated but he added that the Jaycees must reserve the right to place the foreign visitor with families whose interests and backgrounds are most closely aligned with the individuals making up the group.

After the three week "homestay" in Warren, the group will go to Syracuse University for a two month course in American business procedure and administration.

The entire program is sponsored by the Experiment in International Living in Putney, Vt. Each year, this organization makes it possible for 1,000 young Americans to live in European homes during the summer months. Warren has participated in this project through the Community Association.

Man Shoots Car After Steamiron Larceny Charge

A missing steam iron figured in a shooting of a car with occupants and a charge of assault with intent to maim pressed on an apartment owner Saturday evening.

Police reported today that the charge was brought against Karlus E. Abel, owner of the Abel Apartments at 311 Laurel street, after he shot three times at a car containing a former occupant of his apartment, John Flick, now of 1501 Pennsylvania avenue east. Also in the car was Franklin Long, residing on Beech street.

According to the police report, Flick and his wife moved from the Abel Apartments to the Pennsylvania avenue address and upon unpacking of their possessions, they found a steam iron missing.

The iron belonged to a girl friend of Long's.

Abel was called by Flick but denied having the iron. Flick, with Long, then returned to the Laurel street apartments. Abel is alleged to have said "vacate my premises or I'll blow your guts out." Fearing the man would carry out his threats, the two men left and got into Flick's station wagon. Looking back, they noticed Abel cradling his right arm in his left hand, holding some sort of a firearm.

He shot three times, striking the car.

Abel was arrested Saturday evening arraigned before Justice of Peace Fred Berry. He pleaded not guilty and was released on $2,000 property bond.

The assault with intent to maim charge was pressed after officials conferred with District Attorney Samuel F. Bonavita.

Triple Inquiry Is Launched Into Youngsville Fire

Youngsville fire and police officials have been joined by a State fire marshal investigating a blaze on the second floor of Youngsville Elementary school, which caused school janitor, Richard Woods, to be overcome by smoke when discovering the blaze at about 8:00 p. m. Friday. Fire Chief Merle See estimates damages at approximately $500 and arson is suspected.

Police Chief Ed Chappell is assisting See with the investigation to determine how entrance was gained into the building and how the fire was started in a hallway next to a closet door. It has been established that the flames had been burning about 15 minutes before discovery by Lyons, who detected the smoke odor and immediately summoned Jess Lyons, school principal. The janitor raced back to the scene of the fire and was overcome while using a hand extinguisher. He was unconscious as firemen arrived, was revived and taken to his home by ambulance.

Chief See reports that this was the second fire at the school this month, stating that remains of a fire which smothered itself, were found in a desk drawer February 10. He said that this fire, believed to have been set, occurred between 5 p. m. and 8 p. m.

When the last fire was discovered, a basketball game was underway in the school gymnasium.

State Fire Marshal Stanley Szymonowicz, Erie, arrived in Youngsville over the weekend to further the investigation but nothing definite has been yet determined.

Manners MAKE FRIENDS

Some types of questions are always in poor taste. A few you would be wise not to ask are: "How old are you?", "How much did you pay for it?", "How does it happen you never married?" That last is sure to offend, even though you add the usual, "a good-looking woman like you?"

Hollywood News

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Will the revolution of TV tape bring a swing to more local programming?

Some TV critics hope so. They decry the reliance of local channels on network and syndicated film shows. Many stations ignore their local scene and become mere outlets for canned, standardized programs.

A glimmer of hope is offered by Los Angeles' KTLA. The independent Channel 5 is presenting more live dramatic shows than the networks—six half-hours. It has five musical variety shows and a collection of panels, discussions and early morning shows. This is one channel the cowpokes haven't roped.

It must be admitted that KTLA possesses certain advantages. The parent is the munificent Paramount Pictures—yet KTLA pays its own way. And it is situated in the heart of the entertainment capital and can draw from the vast reservoir of talent.

Aggressive young KTLA chief Jim Schulke explained that video tape helped his revolt against canned programming. He feels it can help others.

"Most stations can only afford one eight-hour shift of a camera crew," he explained. "That limits your chance for local shows to a certain time span. But with tape, those crews can record shows for use at a later time."

Video tape records picture and sound on strips that can be played back immediately. Similar to home tape recorders, it is much faster and cheaper than film. The method permits KTLA to attempt ambitious shows because they can be syndicated to other areas.

"Sponsors like local shows," Schulke added. "They find a certain excitement about putting their names on programs that are new and fresh, rather than merely buying into a canned show."

He has also found that news shows hold an increasing interest for viewers. KTLA has newscasts every hour on the hour during the day and will cut into nighttime shows if the news is important enough. It has its own helicopter to help cover the sprawling Los Angeles news scene.

millions confined in her communities.

"However, agricultural production is rising, though no one can swallow without a grain of salt the astronomical figures reeled out by officials. The methods adopted to achieve this 'great leap forward' in agricultural production are:

All cultivable land (except in uneasy Tibet) has been brought under the plough; constant irrigation; deep ploughing, three to six feet deep (on an experimental farm I visited they are ploughing by detonating small bombs under the ground); close planting; and dumping enormous amounts of manure—night soil, green leaves, compost and bacteria-layers after layer interspersed with good earth.

Communist China has solved the problem of food supply for its teeming millions, but it is difficult to check the figures on agricultural production. It is possible that they are generalizing from successes on small experimental farms. It is possible that their bookkeeping may be faulty.

Or, may be, China's soil has joined the Communist party's 'big leap forward campaign.' It is anybody's guess.

Around the Area With The County Agent!

By Bernie Wingert, Warren County Agricultural Agent

By BERNIE WINGERT

I've just returned from Ridge-way after a day of conference with Penn State University 4-H Club administrators, and county extension workers from all of northwestern Pennsylvania. The whole purpose of the conference was to bring county agents and home economists up to date in the 4-H program.

Let me tell you about one phase of 4-H Club work—the "IFYE" program. We discussed it at some length during the conference. "IFYE" means "International Foreign Youth Exchange" and it works much the same as the Community Ambassador Project. Farm youths from America go to live with families in other countries throughout the world, and young farm folks from foreign countries come to America to live and work on our farms for a summer.

Last Fall we had a group of "IFYE's" from England, Sweden, Netherlands and Burma visit in Warren County for a very short while, and this summer we are making arrangements to have an exchange youth live in our county for several weeks.

It's really a wonderful program designed to promote better understanding among the peoples of the world, and I guess you'll agree, we sure need understanding with a capital "U" if we're going to stick around on this earth of ours.

One of the best ways I know to tell you about an IFYE (pronounced "If-ee") is to copy a few paragraphs from a letter that C. J. Gopalakrishna, delegate from India, wrote to his mother on his defections of the U. S.—Meri Pryari Ma (My Dear Mother):

"You have asked me time and again to write you a letter about the people and the country out here, and I have often sat and wondered how I could best describe them so that you might understand them, though I really don't believe I understand them myself."

"As you may have heard, this strange land is peopled by a race that is a mixture of all races and most of them whom are pale as prisoners from a dark and gloomy dungeon. To be sure, they do realize that they lack the glowing brown color of our people, and so they torture themselves in a manner befitting the holiest of "Sadhus" by sitting nearly naked under the scorching sun trying to gain that glorious color that nature endows us with. But most of them end up just by raising huge blisters on their backs and having their skins peel off. And then, after a few weeks when they are healed again, this strange madness returns and the urge to burn themselves renews itself."

Concerning our Sabbath, Gopal says—

"It is hard to imagine but the people here belong to strange religions and are called Christians. Much to the annoyance of their holy men, some of them go fishing or mow their lawns and do their work around the house on Sundays which is also their day of rest, and some of them work so hard that it takes all week long to get rested enough for another day of rest."

On fishing—

"Strangely enough they go to the trouble of raising small fish till they are of a fair size and then instead of eating them they throw them in the rivers and streams and try to catch them back again at great cost and expense. It is things like this that puzzle me no end."

And on schools—

"They have a peculiar school system here where the boys go to learn football and the girls to encourage them in their efforts, and in addition to this they learn a few other things like those we learn in Indian Schools like mathematics and History. Naturally, the most important teacher in the school is the football teacher or the coach as he is called out here."

And he concludes his letter by saying—

"Yet the Americans have shown me hospitality and measure of friendship that we in India would be proud of extending to our most respected and honored guests. So you need have no worries about my health and safety for I shall be home safe and sound in a little while, having learned many things about this great country and its people, and perhaps with a lingering sense of regret for I have learned to like their laughter and their ways."

It seems to me as though Gopal has a pretty good idea of life in the United States, don't you agree? Perhaps he's got the wrong slant on our schools. Well, it wasn't in Warren county where he was visiting anyway.

We hope our next summer's visitor enjoys his stay with us and can write home to his folks —I have learned to like their laughter and their ways."

Information on Social Security

No part of benefit payments from Social Security can be waived by veterans or their widows who must meet certain income limitations to be eligible for nonservice-connected disability or death pension from the Veterans Administration.

That statement was issued today by Alvin Guyler, manager of the VA regional office in Pittsburgh, who said he is receiving many queries on the subject.

Mr. Guyler said a boost in Social Security payments which will be reflected in the checks delivered during early February 1959, may cause some persons to become ineligible for VA pension because their "other income" will exceed $1,400 annually (if without dependents) or $2,700 (if with dependents).

Many of the affected pensioners mistakenly believe they may waive part of their Social Security benefits and thus bring their "other income" below the annual limitations established for VA pension, he added.

Income limitations for VA pension purposes apply to veterans and widows of veterans of World War I, World War II, and the Korean conflict. They do not apply to veterans or widows of veterans of wars before World War I, Mr. Guyler explained.

He also pointed out that until the person receiving Social Security has actually received an amount equal to the total Social Security contributions taken from his salary or wages in the past, the monthly Social Security payments do not count as income and do not have to be reported.

The Red China of Today

(Part V)

The 16 Guarantees

By Dr. Sripati Chandrasekhar
Copyright, 1959,
By The Associated Press

Hard work is the order of the day in the Chihai Yin people's commune which I visited during my travels in Red China. The evening brings a dash of recreation — and large doses of Communist training.

After the day's toil in the fields and factories of this pioneer commune in Honan province, all attend regular classes. There they listen to the radio, which pours out the latest editorial from the People's Daily, the latest production figures from agriculture and industry, the latest government measures to liquidate American "imperialism" and the "Chiang Kai-shek clique," the Peiping opera, and figures on how China has surpassed Britain in the production of various industrial goods.

Then there is a movie or a play or an acrobatic show. And last is the party meeting, which every worker attends. Here the matchless art of self-criticism is practiced.

People rise up and confess their drawbacks and failings, criticize their colleagues and swear to increase production if only to "regain" Formosa, the island bastion of the Nationalist Chinese.

This commune which I have described is popularly called "The Commune of 16 Guarantees." Everybody, according to the age group and sex of the individual, is given 16 guarantees. They are:

1. Clothing which is still a problem because of the cold climate. Heating is poor. 2. Food; 3. Housing; 4. Transportation (from residence to place of work); 5. Maternity benefits. Expectant mothers are given 45 days' leave and a quantity of red sugar, which is a must for expectant mothers in China. 6. Sickness leave and free medical aid.

7. Free old-age care; 8. Free funeral and burial. The director of the commune told me that they would like to give up burial for cremation but the people were prejudiced in favor of traditional interment. So they are adopting what is now called "deep burial." The body is buried at least 10 feet deep so that they can use the land, which otherwise might be a graveyard, for orchards.

9. Free education; 10. A small marriage grant and a free reception for the couple; 11. Twelve free haircuts a year; 12. Twenty free bath tickets a year (hot water baths); 13. Free bringing up of children; 14. Free recreation; 15. Free tailoring; 16. Free electricity.

Communist party Chairman Mao Tse-tung had hoped that the whole nation would become one big commune in a few years, but there seemed to be some doubt and resistance among the leaders themselves. Time alone can tell what lies ahead for China and the

DOUBLE TRAGEDY

Friends over a wide area join the families and community of Youngsville in the widespread sorrow that is expressed over the tragic accident on the Pennsylvania Railroad crossing leading to the Rouse Home, Friday morning, which claimed lives of Bobby Rowland, popular son of the Superintendent and Matron of the Hospital, Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Rowland, and Jack Rivett, a respected and valued employee of the institution for many months. Considering the fact that the tragedy occurred on a private crossing with an unobstructed view both ways for a mile or more the cause of the accident will never be known. Most logical theory seems to be that the bright morning sunshine to the east may have blinded the vision of the driver temporarily. Sympathy of a host of friends is extended bereaved families of the victims.

BLAME THE CALENDAR

Most everybody will agree that the 1950's have been quite a decade. It's hard to remember any greater time of troubles for free men outside those periods of general war.

We had the Korean War, tiny on the geographic scale but all the same an anguished affair that dragged out over three years. We saw the loss of a big chunk of Indochina to Communists, and constant agitation around the Formosa straits off China. We've seen sporadic flareups in the Middle East, and ominous tensions in Germany.

At home we've experienced two recessions, and we're still not all the way out of the second one. We've had a lot of other internal stresses and strains.

Why we should have so much trouble compressed into so short a space of time has been greatly puzzling.

But it shouldn't be any more. A diligent researcher came up with the answer the other day. We've had some 17 Friday the thirteenth since 1950, have two more to go this year and one in 1960.

Won't happen again for 400 years, says the man. Dare we hope the same can be said for the free world's bad luck?

WORLD TODAY

WASHINGTON (AP) — There are three tantalizing questions in Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's willingness to create a crisis over his demand that the Allies get out of West Berlin.

1. Why did he do it picking May 27 as a virtual deadline, and Berlin as the place?

2. Is he willing to have a showdown with the West—even if it means war?

3. Is this the only crisis he has in mind for the West—or is it just the beginning of a series?

West Berlin, 110 miles inside Communist East Germany, represents many things which added up, must provide a big headache to the Soviets.

It is a Western outpost and listening post deep within the Communist world, although its residents give their allegiance to West Germany.

It is a harbor for refugees from communism. Its glitter is a reminder to East Germans and East Europeans that living standards are higher in the West.

And the 10,000 troops the Allies have in West Berlin, through World War II agreement with the Soviets, are a symbol of Western power and authority behind the Iron Curtain.

These are all irritating reasons which make Khrushchev want to get the Allied troops out of the city's Western zone.

If the Allies agreed to that—and right now they talk as if they won't—their grip on West Berlin would crumble.

Khrushchev's thinking may go way beyond these things. He may be using Berlin as an excuse to force the Allies into much broader concessions, such as demilitarizing West Germany.

There is something to be remembered about Berlin. Getting

Here and There

Since today is being observed as Washington's Birthday anniversary by state and federal offices another story about the nation's first resident may not be amiss. This one says Washington not only slept in more places—he was probably more awake in more places, and involved in a greater variety of activities than almost anyone of his time. He was so active in fact, that this just might be the origin of that fun phrase about letting George do it! Washington not only was the Father of our Country, he was also the fun-loving father of his own family, who with Martha, actively believed in family "togetherness." He was also statesman, soldier, landowner and gentleman farmer, and a great, warm-hearted man with many friends who loved him dearly. At the famous Fraunce Tavern, faraway dinner, instead of coldly shaking hands, he kissed all of his officers good-bye—tears streaming down every face! He was also a top mathematician and surveyor; kept a fascinating diary; was a serious fruit farmer, horse and cattle breeder and... a prosperous sheep producer and American woolen manufacturer! George Washington's family for generations had been prosperous in the wool trades, and he himself was intensely interested in building the sheep-producing and wool manufacturing industries in America, because they were so vital to the economic growth of the new country. Washington bred hundreds of sheep on his farm at Mt. Vernon every year, constantly working to improve the breed and the wool; he was a strong advocate of patriotic Americans' use of American wool products; and he wore American homespun wool himself, to prove the point.

Cancer is much more common among children than is generally realized, and currently causes about 4,000 deaths a year in the United States.

Lives of heart patients are now being saved that would have been written off as beyond salvage a decade ago, declares the 1958 Annual Report of the American Heart Association.

In reading the gospel story, one again and again comes upon references to the compassion of Jesus. He was a real friend to the poor, the sick, the ignorant, the hungry, the lonely—to all those who had lost their way in life. His pity was stirred when He saw the multitude. He always saw them as individuals with deep inner needs and personal problems crying for solution.

The significant thing is that He did something about it. He went to work to relieve their particular burden, to light the candle of hope in their hearts, to give them power to carry on. Since those who had been with Him for three days were faint from hunger, He fed them. Christ is our supreme example in the fine art of sympathy.

All about us today are those who are hungry for real friendship. They are a challenge to us and an opportunity for us to speak a word of sympathy and guidance in the name of our Saviour, the compassionate Christ.

PRAYER
O Father, we bow in adoration in Thy holy presence. We thank Thee for Thy love and merciful forgiveness day after day. Help us to express our gratitude by showing compassion to those who know Thee not. Speak through us some winning word of love that they may accept Christ as their Saviour. In His name. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
"It is more blessed to give than to receive."—E. Arnold Clegg (Indiana).

World-wide Bible Reading—Matthew 12:22-50.

had comparatively little chance of growing into maturity. Today delicate and complex surgery makes it possible to cure a wide range of both inborn and acquired heart defects, restoring normal life expectancy to thousands. Another example cited is that of the adult who suffers a heart attack. A decade ago such persons were usually advised to retire from active life; today four out of five go back to work after a first heart attack. For persons with high blood pressure, the report notes, new drugs have been developed during the past decade that make it possible to bring almost all cases under control. These and other advances are reviewed in "Saving Lives," as the Heart Association's report is titled. The advances are attributed primarily to the concerted attack on the cardiovascular diseases which took shape with the reorganization of the American Heart Association as a national voluntary health agency in 1948. Copies of the 1958 Annual Report may be obtained from the Warren County Heart Association office in the Warren Bank & Trust building.

Business Mirror

AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—George and Martha Washington didn't have a government consumer price index to tell them if their living costs were rising.

They never even heard of that sort of government activity. A lot of the things you buy cost them much less. A lot of things you use they never heard of.

The government has just told us that it cost a bit more to live in January than it did in December.

The classic way of comparing today's high prices with the past is to ask: How much did a dozen eggs, a quart of milk, a loaf of bread cost in President Washington's day? The answers are counted upon to floor you.

But look at it for a moment. Mrs. Washington had bread baked in her own kitchen. The cost—involved free or slave labor—is hard to compute. If she had bought a loaf in the store, it wouldn't have been sliced, nor stuffed with vitamins (about which she knew only instinctively), nor wrapped in waxed paper.

Mrs. Washington probably did not buy milk in the store or from a delivery man. If she had, it wouldn't have been in either bottles or cartons, and certainly not pasteurized or homogenized.

If she ever bought eggs in a store they wouldn't have been tipped in a carton, and candied and dated to guarantee they wouldn't hatch before she used them.

The vagaries of the winter weather didn't affect the Washingtons' diet of fresh fruit, vegetables and salads. If they had these items in the winter they probably were out of the root cellar—if they were frozen, it would have been a catastrophe.

Gen. Washington didn't fret about rail commutation fares going up periodically, or bus rides costing more. But if he wanted to go from Mount Vernon to Boston, say, by stage coach, it was a costly business in terms of time consumed and wear and tear on his body structure.

At Mount Vernon they had their own slaughter house and smoke house. How much their meat cost we can't be sure. But could they buy up bargains at the supermarket and store them in a deep freezer? Packaged or maybe pre-cooked?

Maybe there's no government index that really tells you how good the good old days were.

BUSY PHYSICIANS
A Hungarian physician came to this country and was advised to put out his shingle in a neighborhood where many of his countrymen lived. Four weeks passed before he was called to see a patient.

She was an older woman who had suffered a serious stroke. The medico told the family the patient had no chance of recovery. Her husband wanted to know when she was going to die. "Perhaps tonight, tomorrow morning, or within three days," the physician replied.

But the husband persisted and kept asking, "What time will she die?" In desperation the medico said, "At 12 o'clock tonight." The woman died at midnight. On the following Monday the physician's office was filled with patients.

Medical men develop a good reputation thru skill, personality, and willingness to serve. Others get lucky breaks or bluff their way into popularity. In time, the public discovers the worth of these men and the good ones have more patients than they can handle. Some become harassed when rushed, and in this way make enemies.

If we had twice as many physicians as we do today, I doubt if some waiting rooms would be less crowded. The skilled physician always will be busy and his office will be full. Others will always have time on their hands even though well trained. They have no finesse or have not had the opportunity to demonstrate their skills. The remainder are less skillful, colorful, or attractive for a variety of reasons.

Exceptions occur in smaller communities where there are so few physicians the people have no choice. In many of these areas there is no hospital to attract the younger men. Some towns in the U.S.A. that had 20 physicians 30 years ago now have five. When a physician died, no one replaced him because there was nothing to attract newcomers. These towns are in real trouble, when an emergency occurs.

HYPOGLYCEMIA
M. J. writes: Why does a person with too little sugar in the blood have to give up starches and sweets?

REPLY
Carbohydrates raise the blood sugar level and at the same time stimulate the pancreas to manufacture more insulin. As a result the sugar level in the blood increases initially and then falls below the pre-eating level.

COUGHS FROM COLD
H. J. writes: Why do I start coughing whenever I take anything cold?

REPLY
Apparently your throat is sensitive to cold, which stimulates the coughing reflex.

HAND MASSAGE
R. D. writes: Is liniment of any value in arthritis of the hands?

REPLY
Yes, if massage is part of the ritual.

Look Inside Voters' Heads
Guided Campaign Strategy

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—How Democrat candidates for governor and U.S. senator used scientific political opinion polls to guide their campaign strategy in the last election is best shown by a few examples. Copies of 11 of these polls conducted by Louis Harris and Associates of New York have just been made available to this writer for a first report on their content.

Advantages of the state poll political technique were first shown in Maine, which held its election in September. A survey made in May showed that the issue bothering voters the most was unemployment.

FOREIGN POLICY ISSUES were at the bottom of the list. Only 8 per cent were bothered about keeping the peace and 5 per cent about keeping up with the Russians on missiles. But 11 per cent felt the need of new leadership in Washington.

Republican Senator Payne, running for re-election, chose to debate Governor Muskie on foreign policy and support for President Eisenhower. Payne did this ably. But it wasn't the issue voters were most interested in, and he lost.

Democratic Mayor R. Vance Harke of Evansville, Ind., running for U.S. senator against GOP Gov. Harold Handler, used the Harris poll as his guide for the entire campaign.

THE POLL SHOWED Indiana farmers about evenly divided on Benson farm policy. Fewer than a fourth were concerned about the international situation.

Harke chose to soft pedal those issues and concentrate on home issues. It kept him in front all the way.

In California and Ohio—where three polls were made a month or more apart to check trends—right-to-work amendments were shown to be the issue of most concern to voters. Democratic candidates Edmund G. (Pat) Brown, for governor and Clair Engle for U.S. senator in California, Mike DeSalle for governor and Stephen Young for U.S. senator in Ohio therefore concentrated on these issues and courted labor.

California and Ohio polls showed one marked difference, which dictated different tactics in those states.

In California it was shown that the recession had eased and that jobs were better, so that was not an issue to stress. But in Ohio voters had been hard hit by the recession and were worried by it. So Democrats stressed bread and butter issues, cashing in on it to reverse early poll trends.

ON THE SURFACE, February and September polls in Arizona appear to have been wrong. They showed Democratic Gov. Ernest McFarland leading Republican Barry Goldwater in his race for re-election as U.S. senator. Important issues here were local—water rights, high taxes, schools and highways. Right-to-work was a minor issue, with only 7 per cent of the voters interested.

In the last two weeks of the campaign, however, AFL-CIO Political Action Committee sent in a campaign organizer to help McFarland. He was identified as Charles Alva Green, who had a police record. His rogue's gallery photo, printed in Arizona newspapers, tended to prove all Goldwater's charges. That threw him the election.

Similarly, in Maryland, the polls showed Baltimore Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro had an edge over J. Glenn Beil in the U.S. Senate race. The survey showed, however, that if D'Alesandro didn't hold all of his old voting strength, he might not win. The mayor didn't hold it, and he lost.

SOCIETY

WCSA Gathering in Russell Methodist

RUSSELL—WCSA met in the church for a dessert-luncheon served to 18 members by Mrs. Harry Pearson and Mrs. Charles Pearson.

Mrs. Joseph Swanson presided at the business session, with Mrs. Ralph Baker in charge of devotions on the theme "Literacy and Christian Literature"; she also read a poem by John D. Jess, and Mrs. Mary Root led in prayer.

"Mrs. Charles Pearson was in charge of the program, using the same topic and pointing out it is a vital point of missionary work both here and overseas."

Several "thank you's" were read and Mrs. Houghvot reported two quilts have been completed. Treasurer's report showed a balance of $326.37; it was decided to hold a rummage sale March 6 and 7; the president appointed Mrs. Charles Swanson, Mrs. George Hedges and Mrs. Mary Root as a nominating committee.

An invitation was received from the Thursday Evening Circle to attend its meeting at the church February 26, when Mrs. Leonard Jordan will be guest speaker.

LADIES' AID
Ladies' Aid members of First Baptist church will meet at the church at 2:00 p. m. Tuesday for a dessert-luncheon. Hostesses will be Mrs. Patricia Sparks, Mrs. Olive Be-low, Mrs. Arletta Owens. Devotions will be in charge of Mrs. Olga Miller, and a good attendance is desired.

ON DEAN'S LIST
Announcement has been received that Craig Alexander Wyman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wyman, 4 Myrtle street, and a freshman at Harlem Valley State Hospital School of Nursing, Wingdale, N.Y., has been included in the Dean's List at New Paltz State University Teachers College, New Paltz, N.Y., with which the Harlem Valley State Hospital School of Nursing affiliates for the basic biological, physical and social sciences.

This distinction is reserved for students who have maintained a scholastic average of "B" or above in the semester, and in all courses completed at the college thus far.

Mr. Wyman, graduate of Warren High School in 1957, was previously employed at Warren State Hospital.

PHC MEETING
PHC will meet Thursday evening for dinner at 6:00; this business meeting to follow at 7:00 p. m. The new state manager, Donald Newcomer, will be guest of honor. A social time will conclude the evening and a large attendance is desired.

COLLEGE CHOIR TO SING AT HOSPITAL

Thiel College Choir, from Greenville, which will be singing in First Presbyterian church Friday evening under the auspices of Warren Lutheran Churchmen, will also be heard at 1:45 p. m. in a special program presented in Warren State Hospital auditorium for patients and staff members.

Youngsville Planning For Exchange Student

Youngsville is busy making plans for obtaining a foreign exchange student for the coming year, and with the formation of the Exchange Student Board, the application can now be sent to the American Field Service in New York, sponsors of the program.

The board is composed of President H. J. Sherwood; finance chairman, John Kirk; foster home selection chairman, Mrs. Robert Sweetland; student representative, Manford Rydholm; school administrator, Jesse W. Lyon.

The application must be in by March 1, 1959, and a minimum of $650 per year per exchange student raised by the local chapter. At least two homes are needed for approval by the AFS.

Mrs. Robert Sweetland and committee, Mrs. Herbert Johnson and Mrs. Henry Brooks of Youngsville, Mrs. Howard Becker, Garland, and Mrs. Kermit Vicander, Irvine, are making all possible contacts to find the necessary home. Reports on these homes will be sent to the American Field Service, which will try to find a home to the student available.

The finance committee will, no doubt, soon be in action in an endeavor to raise the necessary funds to bring the student to Youngsville.

FRATERNITY HONOR
Word comes from Allegheny College in Meadville that Craig Forsgren, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Forsgren, 324 Prospect street, has been named herald by Sigma Alpha Epsilon, national social fraternity. Forsgren is a junior and a biology major.

STUDENT-TEACHER
Announcement is received from Indiana State Teachers' College that Beverly Mathis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mathis of 215 Madison avenue, is doing her student-teaching in music at Hempfield Area Joint Schools.

Miss Mathis will receive her bachelor of science degree in education from Indiana in May and will be certified to teach music on the secondary and elementary school level. During her college career, she has been an active member of Delta Omicron, Kappa Delta Pi, the Methodist Club, College Choir and Music Educators' Club.

MR. AND MRS. FRANCIS A. WRIGHT

An arrangement of white pom poms and ferns formed the background for candelabra at Hessel Valley Lutheran church in Chancellers Valley February 14 for the wedding of Patricia Ann Chase and Francis A. Wright.

The Rev. Carl E. Nelson, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church of Warren performed the double ring ceremony for the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Chase, Sugar Grove, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wright, Sr., of East Randolph, N. Y., in the presence of 125 guests. Connie Lohnes, organist, played nuptial music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of lace over bridal satin, the moulded bodice having long lace sleeves tapering over the hands, a satin train falling from the waistline to the floor. Her fingertip veil of sheer illusion was attached to a pearl-studded crown, and a heart-shaped necklace with matching ear-rings completed her costume.

Her attendants were attired in different shades of pink, with matching headpieces, and carried bouquets of pink and white carnations. Helen Wright, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor; Onalee Frank was bridesmaid.

William Chase, brother of the bride, served as best man; ushers were brothers of the principals, Norman and Frank

Thiel Choir Director

Marlowe W. Johnson, who will direct the Thiel College Choir when it appears here in concert Friday evening, is also founder of the choral group and has been a member of the college faculty since 1953.

A graduate of Concordia College in Moorhead, Minn., Johnson studied for three and one-half years under Paul Christiansen, director of the Concordia Choir and son of F. Melhus Christiansen, of St. Olaf's fame. While a member of the choir, Johnson appeared with the group in concerts from coast to coast of this country and on a European tour in 1949.

He did graduate work at University of California, in Berkeley, and at University of Michigan, in Ann Arbor, where he earned his master of music degree.

Prior to joining the Greenville college's faculty, he was chairman of the department of music at Clifton, Texas, Junior College for two years. Mr. Johnson is also the director of music for Holy Trinity Lutheran church in Greenville, a post he holds in addition to his faculty position.

The local students at Thiel, Betty DeLong and Maurice Ruland, will appear with the choir when it sings in First Presbyterian church at 9:00 p. m. Friday under the auspices of Churchmen of First, St. Paul's and St. John's Lutheran churches.

Jaycees Presenting French Film Topaze

The Jaycee International Film Festival committee announces the next offering in its 1958-59 series will be "Topaze", scheduled for showing in Beatty Junior High School auditorium at 8:30 p. m. Tuesday. Tickets for this individual performance may be had at the box office, the committee reports.

"Topaze", written, produced and directed by Marcel Pagnol, stars Fernandel, fabulous French comic, often seen with Bob Hope.

The story turns upon the schoolteacher's discovery that copybook maxims he has been teaching, about money being the root of all evil and binging everything but happiness, are not the most apt guides for the conduct of one's life.

By reversing them, he achieves all he had previously missed: Wealth, friends, a decoration from the "inspector", and a beautiful mistress.

Some of the country's leading newspapers and magazines have reviewed the film, variously describing it: Brilliant... amusing play... an elaborate moral satire... Fernandel a top comic.

With these in mind, the Jaycee committee adds: Why not come to see this laugh root in action?

Co. Historical Society Enjoys Interesting Talk

Warrenites learned many interesting facts when the Rev. G. Hall Todd D.D., addressed members and friends of Warren County Historical Society on Thursday evening in the large court room of the court house.

A native of Warren, Dr. Todd made a special trip from Philadelphia, where he is minister of the Arch Street Presbyterian church. He listed many of the famous persons who have visited Warren in the past, the list ranging from William Howard Taft to Gene Stratton-Porter.

He spoke in some detail of two Warrenites who distinguished themselves in the field of teaching and letters—Charles Emerson Beecher and Ernest Lacy. The latter, better known outside his home city than here, won acclaim as a poet and playwright, as well as a beloved teacher in Philadelphia, where an Ernest Lacy Society was formed to honor him.

It is interesting to note, as Dr. Todd pointed out, that many of the families prominent in Warren in the early 1800's are still represented in the town today. The speaker drew upon his special knowledge of several early families to describe their contributions to Warren's growth and development.

Dr. Todd's talk was broadcast, and was a most informative review of early Warren history. It proved that a wealth of historical data is to be found in local records.

Following the meeting, Dr. Todd was greeted by many personal friends who were in the audience.

TRAGEDY AT POLK

Venango County Coroner Dr. Maurice C. Dinsberg has issued a verdict of death due to strangling in the case of Marcella Ruby Zeman, 24, whose body was found Saturday at the Polk State School. Dr. Dinsberg said the patient's restraining jacket squeezed her neck after she fell off a bed. He said the restraining jacket was tied to the bed. An attendant, Dr. Dinsberg said, was in another part of the room at the time. A native of West Winfield, Butler County, Miss Zeman had been a patient at the hospital since 1945.

They Are Boon to Problem Figures

Clothes for a winter vacation in the sun follow the relaxed lines of other fashions this year. Dressmaker suit (left) in dacron and cotton is perfect for sunning, has permanently pleated skirt. It's done in a pastel flower print. On board a cruise ship, this girl wears print shirt and lilac poplin shorts (center). Both are a joy to the traveler, since they wash and dry in a wink. They're cotton and dacron. The classic knit swimsuit, always a favorite, takes on a new look (right) for resort wear through the striped trim. This one is fast-drying orlon used with elastic yarn. It will hold its shape and clear color.

NEW YORK (NEA) — The relaxed and easy look of all other fashions is seen in leisure fashions for resort wear, too. Swimsuits, separates and shorts all take on this gently-fitted line. The result is that people with figure problems really get a break. The dressmaker suit with pleated skirt takes care of his problems and gracefully disguises bulges. Longer shorts, perhaps the Bermuda length, conceal poor thighs. And even the much-loved knit swimsuit is not as revealing as it has been in other seasons. Since most girls who take a winter vacation in the tropics expect to wear their resort clothes next summer, they are assured that the silhouette will prevail for summer, too. What's good in January will also be good in June. Colors run to the pinks, lilacs and blues, with some red. But this year, the red has a pink rather than an orange cast. There are also splashes of yellow, blue-green and avocado. The relaxed line does not ignore the figure. Rather, it follows the body lines gently. It is neither tight nor loose but a graceful compromise.

Homemakers: Plan Spring Cleaning Routines Now

BY KAY SHERWOOD, NEA Staff Writer

The murky pall of mingled smoke, soot, and damp-gray skies over the late winter landscape is apt to be reflected indoors, too. Furnishings begin to look grayer and, perhaps, even dingy. In spite of determined effort, dust sifts over upholstery, carpets, drapes, and lamp-hoods. With heating plants going full tilt during the cold weather, sooty smudges streak the walls. The homemaker, looking ahead to spring, is beginning to chart her cleaning schedule to have the house fresh and shining by Easter. Major weapons in the campaign will be the vacuum cleaner, detergents-and-water, and specialized cleaners. Upholstered furniture, for example, may need cleaning to restore the brightness of color or to lift a gray veil from pale, neutral shades. HOME SHAMPOOING of sofas and chairs can be a tricky operation. Fabrics may be wetted too thoroughly and bleeding or fading can occur. Too, a cover fabric may be colorfast but the padding might not be. It then could bleed through. A new, concentrated upholstery shampoo claims to have brought this problem under control with a special applicator which is said to help prevent excessive wetting. The foam is squeezed through the sponge-brush head. It does the cleaning, and this action occurs on the surface of the fabric. When it dries, foam is vacuumed or brushed off. In our unofficial tests with it, the foam did a good job of lifting off surface soil with a minimum of fuss, bother and equipment. It's also good for leather or vinyl upholstery—the foam is wiped off while damp when so used. Consider: home cleansers can't be expected to accomplish miracles if fabrics are heavily spotted or stained and have been neglected for long periods. Even professional cleaning may not successfully remove all stains in such instances. Better applicators for rug shampoos promise to make rug cleaning easier and more effective. Over-wetting can be a problem with carpet cleaning, too, and new applicators are designed to distribute foam evenly, automatically. This prevents water from seeping through the fibers. One of the newest applicators comes in pretty colors and has a sponge roller-brush head on a tank into which the solution is poured; a dial is set to control flow of foam. Thorough vacuuming before and after shampooing a rug is important to success. Use slow strokes and go back and forth over an area several times to pull up as much loose soil as possible. Make sure you're not trying to vacuum with a full dust bag—put in an empty bag before you start. One good reason to read the directions for unfamiliar products before you use them is to save yourself grief. Not all fabrics can be shampooed, for example, and a caution to test an inconspicuous spot for color-fastness is not to be overlooked. Once rugs are cleaned, try to protect them from excessive spotting. A satisfactory solution in our house is the use, during bad weather, of small cotton rugs at entryways to catch the snow and slush. These washable rugs come in many colors and neutral shades, to team up with living room carpets.

Squeeze bottle with applicator top is used to apply upholstery shampoo. Homemaker mixes solution with water before using.

YOUNGSVILLE

YOUNGSVILLE — Twenty members of Lady Gray Rebekah Lodge were present for the regular meeting in IOOF Hall when, following routing business, the evening was spent playing cards, with high score for Five Hundred going to Mured Anderson and low to Alene Mead. In Canasta, Melva Richards won high score and Myrdeth Wise, low. Lunch was served in the dining room by Grace Osborn, Bertha Patch, Belle Sample, Donna Agnew and Loretta Young, the table beautifully decorated in red, and white, centered with a large heart. Pittsfield Garden Club met at the community center in Pittsfield recently for a cooperative dinner recently, with 18 members and one guest present. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Langdon, Youngsville, were host and hostess for the dinner and program that followed. Entertainment consisted of two slides presented by Norman Taylor, of Garland, the first being beautiful scenes in Canada and the second of the Jackson and Perkins rose farms in New Ark, N. Y. Brent Eorton was pleasantly surprised last Saturday evening when seven dropped in to have dinner with him in honor of his 13th birthday anniversary. The table was beautifully decorated with pink and white, centered with a heart shaped cake. Following a delicious ham dinner, the evening was spent playing games and records. Ten guests of honor received lovely gifts from Leslie Sanford, Phil Barton, Jim Daily, Gary Siller, Stanley Blekeslee and Steve Meleen, along with many happy birthday wishes for the future. WCTU met recently with Mrs. H. H. Husted on West Main street, with 15 present. The county president, Mrs. Alberta Trauffer, county vice president, Mrs. Bessie Johnson, and Miss Clara Wickstrom, all from Warren, were present. The vice president conducted the meeting, and Mrs. Marie Deshner was in charge of devotions. Mrs. Trauffer gave an inspiring talk on the life of Francis Willard, founder of the organization. Miss Wickstrom had charge of the program, which included readings by Mrs. Mayola Sanford, Marie Deshner and Mrs. C. C. Johnson; Miss Bessie Johnson impersonated Francis Willard. Mrs. Deshner and daughter, Nancy, sang "Each Step I Take." Refreshments were served by the hostess.

AMERICA'S AIR-MINDED CO-EDS

Students Take to the Wild Blue at Stephens College

BY MARY KAY FLYNN
NEA Staff Correspondent

COLUMBIA, Mo. (NEA) — It may be a man's world but women are proving that the atmosphere around it is anybody's domain. Whether earth-bound or air-borne, one group of women are working at being intelligent citizens of the Air Age. Their air-space textbooks have a new place beside their cookbooks. The famed "Aviation in the Modern World" course offered by Stephens College for women gives the student a broad view of the whole field of aviation. Studies range from world air routes and the social and economic influences of aviation to the general operation of personal aircraft. The only college aviation course in the country devoted exclusively to the training of women is a pacesetter, putting the student on familiar ground, whether confronted with the business or technical side of flying. An average of 120 women take the course annually. A PIONEER development in the field of education for women, the course was originated in 1946 by the present head of the occupations division of the college, Kenneth E. Newland, to give a "consumer's approach" to aviation. It was the first attempt on the part of any college to develop a course on a non-technical basis from the complexity of technical courses. Approximately 200 students used as "flying classrooms" by students majoring in botany, geology and other such distant subjects. They have completed a total of seven million air miles without any major accidents. THE DEVELOPMENT of aviation education on the college level has included substantial contributions to the field of aeronautics. One of its most outstanding projects was carried out in cooperation with the U.S. Navy and the Civil Aeronautics Administration. Wire recorders were placed in the school's planes and complete transcriptions of the conversation of instructor and student were recorded. This led to revision of flight instructors' teaching methods in both civilian and military programs. In 1941 the immediate objective of the college's early aviation program was to train women to fill the thousands of wartime jobs which were held by men prior to that time. As a result, Stephens graduates became flight instructors, Link Trainer operators and filled a variety of positions with the major airlines. Today, as a well-established part of the curriculum, the purpose of the department, according to Newland, is "to develop among students attitudes which are based on the realities of the Air Age. They will be participants in a society in which the use of the air is a dominating force toward world unity, peace and understanding." The department, which at one time gave major importance to flight instruction, more recently has emphasized air transportation which equips the trainees for positions with the nation's major airlines. Jets, space flight and commercial air travel are the scholastic diet of these students enrolled in the Stephens College aviation course. Receiving pointers on a jet's construction from instructor Kenneth E. Newland are Beverly Glass, left, of Manchester, Iowa, and Sabra Knepper, of Cincinnati, Ohio. have received their private pilot's licenses in the past 10 years and more than 1,500 have taken the popular airline traffic course, which equips the trainees for positions with the nation's major airlines. Please contact the Stephens College Aviation Department for more information.

Radio and TV

By CHARLES MERCER
NEW YORK (AP) — When Edward R. Murrow leaves CBS July 1 on a year's leave of absence, television and radio will lose its foremost journalist.

Under the terms of his contract, which has several years to run, Murrow says he is obligated legally and morally to return.

"You're talking to a tired 50-year-old who wants a rest," he told me. "It's an age to enjoy some travel and contemplation if you have the time. That's all there is to my requesting a leave."

Since Murrow did not tell me more, it would be presumptuous to try to read his mind. Yet from a variety of sources other than Murrow, one can gather facts that should bear substantially on his contemplations while traveling.

Murrow, Edward R., fiftyish, reporter. Health: excellent. Personal life: happy; a wife, a son, a farm in Pawling, N.Y., that's a pleasant home. Temperament: reserved, some say "shy," extremely slow to anger, cool and lucid when the going's rough. Acquaintances: innumerable. Intimate friends: extremely few.

Financial worries: none for the rest of his life. Principal interests: the communication of ideas to people, his craft as a reporter. Principal concern: "I believe this country is in grave perhaps mortal danger."

Achievements: employed by CBS for 25 years, principally as a reporter. Did a hitch as a network executive, didn't like it. His "See It Now" series an outstanding contribution to TV journalism, a classic in its field, the recipient of innumerable awards. "Person to Person" interview series long a popular and commercially successful series. "Small World" conversational series very popular, plans to continue doing some while on leave.

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—If the faces you see on television seem terribly familiar, there's a reason.

"Television is badly in need of fresh faces," said Merv Griffin. "But everybody's afraid to gamble on new talent."

Griffin, singing emcee, feels the industry needs to develop a system by which it can uncover and help mature outstanding young entertainers.

"There is no sure way today for promising performers to be discovered," he said. "It's harder than ever for great instrumentalists, for example, to get started. There must be some Artie Shaws and Benny Goodmans of tomorrow around, but they're unrecognized. "The colleges in particular are being overlooked. They produce concert artists, but why don't they turn out more entertainers in the field of popular music?"

Merv himself quit college in 1945 at the age of 18 to take a $1150-a-week job singing on a San Francisco radio station.

"I figured that with that kind of money I could buy the university in a couple of years, and issue myself any diplomas I needed," he recalled, smiling. Three years later he quit to tour with Freddie Martin's band at only $150 a week.

"Everybody thought I was crazy to take a $1,000 weekly pay cut," he said. "But I wanted to see the country, and I didn't want to spend my life as a one-town performer."

Griffin spent four years on the road, made a top-hit record, three pictures in Hollywood, had his own radio variety show and did a night-club stint with Tallulah Bankhead.

"A touring dance band is the greatest training school in the world for a singer," he said. "One night you're singing in a Pennsylvania night club; the next night you're opening at the Waldorf."

"You learn how to please any kind of audience. You learn what music has universal appeal."

"Where can you get that kind of training now? The bands don't play around so much today."

Griffin thinks the discovery of fresh talent today is largely a hit-or-miss matter.

"A kid runs out and makes a record, rolls it to the nearest company. There they usually toss it into the wastebasket," he said. "But suppose they do put it out and it becomes an overnight hit. The kid usually dies overnight, too. Very few last. They don't get the training."

PICTURE NEWS

AROUND THE WORLD

AMBUSHED—Some press photographers are poised for hurried action as they wait for a signal from a colleague who's peeking through a keyhole. They'd been waiting for hours to photograph a high government official in the Quirinale Palace in Rome, and he's getting close.

GETTING A SECRET—Physicist Theodore R. Butkovich is holding a portion of an 800-year-old ice core in the "cold room" of the U.S. Army Snow, Ice and Permafrost Research Establishment at Wilmette, Ill. Unearthed in Arctic Greenland, the ice slab is thought to contain samples of air and bacteria preserved since 1100 A.D. It is hoped scientists can find out how much air contamination has resulted since the industrial revolution.

THE LATEST — This classic three-button single-breasted summer suit in raw silk was designed in Rome, Italy, by Cucci. It was introduced to this country by Max Hess, who staged a style show of men's fashions in Allentown, Pa.

PAPOOSE FASHION—While seven-month-old daughter Alison rests comfortably in an Apache Indian cradle board, Mrs. Jean Norris has both hands free to buy some postage stamps in Upperton, Sussex, England. Mrs. Norris is from New Mexico, but is married to a teacher of partially deaf children at a school in Chichester. She plans to visit her parents in the U.S. soon.

ALL SET — Ready for some cold weather in Moscow, writer-entertainer Kay Thompson is all bundled up in a rough wool coat in New York. She was leaving for a three-week trip to Russia to learn how entertainers work and live in that country. Kay held a press interview at the Plaza Hotel in Manhattan.

WHAT IN THE WORLD?—Or is it something out of this world? A cello seems to have legs and arms as Leonard Bernstein (right) conducts the New York Philharmonic in a rehearsal at Carnegie Hall. French cellist Maurice Gendron is behind that instrument and just happened to be in this position when a cameraman showed up.

BEGGARS ON THE BEACH—The sea gulls at Miami Beach, Fla., are getting too lazy to look for their own food. Nowadays they prefer to stroll along the sand, seeking handouts from the tanning tourists who find them amusing—for a little while.

HE'S DIFFERENT—In Linden, N. J., laboratory technician Daniel J. McHugh is giving his all for research by washing dishes at a research center. By risking dishpan hands he determines how long the suds last in new-type soaps developed from petroleum. Duplicating the dish-washing routine is the most effective method of testing new detergents. Some scientists shoot off rockets or hydrogen bombs, but this is McHugh's method.

GOOD IMITATION—A representation of the Polaris missile, inlaid in the deck linoleum, points to Captain L. M. Slack (left) and Commander K. L. Wallace aboard the U.S.S. Observation Island at Cape Canaveral, Fla. Slack is skipper and Wallace weapons officer of the ship which will conduct test launchings of the Navy's Polaris.

BOWLERED OVER—Putting their heads together on a matter of style, actress Julie Harris and painter Walter Keane are wearing bowlers as they feed some pigeons in San Francisco's Union Square. Julie's playing there in "The Warm Peninsula," and tried Keane's hat on just for laughs.

FINAL DECISION—Part of this house projected out into the path of a new road at Oberwessel, Germany. The residents could not all be relocated in time for the road work to be finished. Some of the house was clipped off to make room for the highway, and enough was left to shelter the tenants. This was the temporary result.

TWO QUEENS — Dancers Connie and Bonnie Steinle (she's the high one) hold a winning hand in any game, but they're making a real wild card at Las Vegas, Nev. They'll be hostesses at the Third International Gin Rummy Tournament there.

A large Warren following was witness to the wrestling Dragons' surrender of their Section II title in Franklin High gym Saturday evening.

Defending champions, Warren was dethroned by Titusville High's 5-point margin. Final standings are: Titusville 28 points, Warren 23, Oil City 20, Franklin 18 and Corry 7.

The Titusville win was one of the "how come" endings in sports Fans will recall that the Rockets dropped only two mat meets this year—to the undefeated local grapplers. Then the Titusville matmen score much-wanted revenge by taking Section honors from Warren.

Four Warren wrestlers will be among Section II representatives in Franklin High next Saturday evening, when winners of the Section III tourney, also held Saturday evening, meet to decide Southern division of District 10 winners. March 7, winners of Saturday's II-III competition will go against Sect. I champs, deciding fate of the District 10 crown. Results of Sect. III's tourney should be known Tuesday. It will be published.

Working their way into the trophy-winning group were Dean Lester, 95 pounds; Gail Page 120, and Jim Olson 135. Max Claypool won the exhibition 88-pound scrap, and also was awarded a trophy.

Titusville proved rigid competition for Warren, and the other three teams, during both the elimination and final bouts. Oil City Oilers came through nicely, placing two in champion bracket. Franklin Knights competed awfully, also positioning to o finalists. No wrestlers finished on top for Corry Eavers. Winners had four champs, including undefeated Jim De-Miller (103) and 145-pounder Chuck Shaffer.

Warren forfeited their 103-pound bout to Franklin Rich Cummings failed to meet his weight. Undefeated John Colvin was stopped short by Chuck Samonsky, Oil City, in the semi-finals. Bob Long also with a perfect record, loss to Oiler Chuck Breen in the semi A "friendship" match was dropped, by Andy Laison to Bob Dale. Franklin Laison and Dale were reported to be "best of buddies."

Point scoring in the finals was 3 for placement in the deciding competition, 5 for a winner, and 1 point for a semi-final pun. Before the championship bouts started, Warren led the pack with 2 points, all others had 1. The Dragons had two pins in the semi, Ron Seder pinning Marshall (F) in 1:30 first period, and Jim Olson putting Mitchell (OC) to the mat in 1:50 second canto.

Titusville had 6 men competing in the finals, Warren and Oil City 5 each, Franklin 4 and Corry 2.

Outstanding Owl Athlete Is Heart Victim on Trip

One of Bradford's more outstanding athletes three decades ago died of a heart attack Thursday enroute from Tulsa, Okla., to his new home in Bradford.

Francis E. "Funny" Foster, 52, was stricken with the attack in an Illinois hotel while on his way back home to assume his duties as general sales manager at his new headquarters in Bradford for Bradford Supply Co.

Foster was an outstanding athlete at Bradford where he graduated in 1928.

In football, he was a virtual one-man band. He ran, kicked and passed as the star backfield performer of the entire area. "Funny's" finest hour came during his senior year when he captained Owls to a 26-0 triumph over Johnsonburg, Oct. 29, 1927.

He either scored or figured prominently in all four TDs. Funny reversed his field three times, once going back almost to his own goal line, then breezed through the entire disorganized Johnsonburg team.

Same year he closed off a brilliant scholastic career by dashing 90 yards for Owls' only touchdown against an over-powring Olean eleven.

In baseball, he was Ins school's leading home run hitter. In track, he was virtually unbeatable in the 440 and 220 competition. He was also superlative in basketball.

Services in his memory were conducted at 11 a. m. this morning in Bradford with burial in McKean Memorial Park.

Eagles Victorious, Favored In UAVL Race; Knights Post Win

Youngsville continued their march toward the UAVL title Friday night, chipping off their 8th win against 1 loss on the loop state.

Latest victim of the determined Eagles was Spartansburg's quintet, 60-37. Northern Area struck out a loss for Pleasantville 60-39.

Eagles are a full game over East Forest, which they beat last week. Knights are in fourth place, out of the race.

Waning schedule of West Forest, Northern Area and Pleasantville makes title hopes of the Eagles look bright.

Although Troyer matched Chuck Halfast's 17-point production Friday, eight of nine Eagles chipped in with scoring and after a comparatively close first period settled the issue with a 22-10 second period.

An intermission edge of 33-16 was comfortably owned by Youngsville.

Fans are reminded of the change in UAVL games this week—Tuesday's action moved to tonight, March 3 games to Wednesday, the Friday contests remaining the same.

Tonight, Youngsville is heavily favored at West Forest while Northern Area will be out to upset East Forest. A Knight win could possibly sew up the title for Youngsville.

Northern Area's upset of Pleasantville slammed a staggering blow on the Falcon's championship hopes. The loss dropped them to third, two games behind pace setting Youngsville.

Victors were held to a tight 11-10 first canto spread, but moved out in second 15-3. Bob Darts assisted the Knight victory with 15 markers, Kenny Williams meshed 12. Mangle was the lone Falcon in double digits with 12.

Warren Battlers On Erie K-C Ring Card in Gannon

Three Warren pugilists are expected to appear on the K. of C. amateur ring show in Erie Saturday evening.

Definitely on the card is Joe Campagna, for his first amateur go. Joe, a pupil of Joe Fazio, has been matched with lightweight Connie Friedman. Campagna has been working out at YMCA with Fazio and GG King Tom Gerarde for several weeks.

He has been working out in spare time for over two years, awaiting an opportunity to fight on a card.

No opponent has been named for Gerarde yet, Don Elbaum expected to send word along this week. Also expected to be on the K-C event in Gannon Auditorium, is Carl Henning. Carl fought an exhibition in YMCA over a year ago.

The best boys in amateur business from this section of the county today will be fighting. They include Bobby Sandella and Booker T. Williamson. Fans will remember the terrific fight between the two on Memorial Field last Fourth of July. Williamson won the outstanding boxer trophy.

Brother of professional Johnny Bizzaro, Paul has been matched with Jim Boomhouser; Jim Berdis faces wicked Frank Smith; Dean Harrison goes against Billy Williams; Chet Moffet vs. Jerry Kocan; Willie McCory and R. C. Gilford.

Sandella will fight Pat Roamer, Larry Bortnick will oppose Williamson.

Tickets for the show are expected to be on sale locally before Saturday.

Further Title Consideration Shaded as Warren Drops 4th

Meadville High School's basketball team defeated Warren, 62-50, Friday night to practically assure themselves of a tie and playoff spot for the championship of Section II. Meadville shares the top rung with Titusville, victor over Franklin by a 64-53 margin, both schools sporting a 7-2 record. Franklin is in second with a 6-3 log and Warren fell to 5-4 and third place.

Warren's defeat eliminated them from further title consideration. The same fate befell the favored Franklin Knights. Meadville and Titusville both play weak teams on the closing night of the league action Friday. If they win, as most experts predict, a play-off for the league laurels will be necessary.

Tony Pero, veteran Meadville backcourt operative, led the Bulldogs in their triumph over the Dragons: Pero, besides setting up the plays in the winners' deliberate style of attack, sparked the Joy-boys to a 28-21 halftime lead from which they never were headed. Aiding the veteran senior were Graham with 12 markers and Hunter and Stahlsmith each having 11 tallies.

Nicky Creola, hampered considerably by sickness over the past few weeks, continued to display his shooting ability. The slick performance. Only trouble was that he didn't get any help from his mates. Warren's outside shooting was miserable—the usually reliable Bill Brumagim found it difficult to even hit the bankboard. His shots were falling short. Aware of the weak outside shooting, Meadville dropped their defenses close to the basket and cut off the inside drives of the Dragon players which made it hard to score.

A 20-10 third period onslaught which hiked Meadville's margin to 48-31 sealed the doom for the Dragons. About the only consolation was the fact that they didn't give up trying. A spirited final quarter drive saw the Blue and White charges outscore their opposition 19-14.

Warren made a game of it until they lost Cashman early in the third quarter. Without Mike's scoring punch and his rebounding ability the Dragons faltered noticeably. Meadville was quick to capitalize on the opportunity as is evidenced by their 20 point third-period spurge.

Coach John Joy was happy over the result. The victory—which he thought would not come as easy as it did—gives his charges another crack at the Rockets. Most inside dopesters feel as though the Rockets will measure the Bulldogs if they should clash in a play-off game.

Coach Massa, hopeful of an upset, was keenly disappointed in the result of the game. The players abandoned the planned strategy of playing a possession type game and failed to help each other on defense which accounted for their defeat.

This Friday Warren entertains the bustling Franklin Knights. Franklin—a preseason favorite to cop the championship—was riding high until Warren upended them on their home court. It is certain that Coach Jim McCullough and his boys will be out for revenge when they take to Beatty hard-wood at game time. Warren, by the way, was the only team to defeat Franklin at home this season.

Fullmer Wants Robinson To Vacate Title

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Gene Fullmer, a majority decision winner over Willie Greaves, wants the New York State Athletic Commission to vacate Sugar Ray Robinson's world middleweight title.

Marv Jensen, Fullmer's manager, has written a letter to the commission asking that a match between Gene and Carmen Basilio or any other middleweight receive sanction as a championship bout.

"We want to fight Basilio for the title in New York," said Jensen Friday night after Fullmer had won his Madison Square Garden match with Greaves, a willing young Canadian. "Basilio is No. 1. Gene is No. 2 and he has licked Spider Webb, the best of the rest."

Robinson hasn't fought since he regained the crown from Basilio March 25, 1958 at Chicago. The normal six-month period of grace expired long ago. Robinson has been talking of fighting Archie Moore for the light heavy championship before he defends his 160-pound title.

Fullmer had his hands full with Greaves, a rough and ready youngster from Edmonton, Alberta. The ex-champ was able to bull his man and scored heavily with right hand punches to the body.

One official, Judge Nick Gamboli thought it was even 5-5 in rounds and 5-5 in points Judge Jack Gordon scored it 6-4 and Referee Harry Kessler 5-4, both for Fullmer. The AP card was Fullmer 6-4.

St. Marys eliminated Emporium 72-47, Port Allegeny downed Ridgway 58-43 and Johnsons bowed to Otto-Eldred 60-48.

Biggest game this week is a must for both squads. Dutch and Gators will be out for blood Tuesday. Should Dutchmen win, automatically it gives them AML title as well as the right to represent North Tier of District IX in the playoffs.

Should Gators win it would tie AML and call for a special playoff. That would give Port a second shot at St. Marys by virtue of the Gator's winning of North Tier B. League. AML rules state that should the league winner hold two victories over either Port, Smethport or Otto-Eldred, and should one of these three teams win North Tier Class B League, AML would automatically go to the league champ.

This far Dutch hold one win over Port Allegeny and a win Tuesday would clinch the crown and role of representative. Sheffield opened the game with a 17-7 lead which was quickly whittled down to a Smethport 32-26 intermission bulge. Wolverines pulled ahead again in the third canto, but finally submitted to their host in fourth stanza.

Jim Acker's hot scoring upped the Hubber second quarter scoring. Acker dumped in 32 for the evening, second highest in Smethport High. Dan Petchel's 6 and Fred Benson's 4 paced Sheffield in the third Petchel and Benson took Sheffield scoring honors, each hitting the boards for 12.

The commanding lead was taken by winners with four minutes left to play.

Sheffield pulls a curtain on their cage season Tuesday when they host Ridgway. Fans in the Sheffield area are encouraged to attend the game and see a top County team in action. Jayvees

First Win for Corry Sank and Rockets Stay In

Corry posted their first loop win and Titusville kept themselves in Section II running with rallies Friday night.

In a wild, zany contest, Beavers chalked up number 1 in Sectional competition over Oil City, 75-70. Franklin fell before Titusville 64-53.

Corry's win pulled the Oilers into the cellar with them. Beavers were having a picnic, leading 62-35 going into fourth quarter. Oilers sparked the shooting in final canto, dumping in 32 points.

Terry Williams, Corry flashy forward, scored 32 for winners, Latos had 15 Jerry Osborne sank 26 to pace Oilers.

George Dewey and Titusville rocketed Franklin out of the running. Pistie fireworks climaxed the game with 10 seconds left. A deliberate foul was called on Bob Lynch. Suddenly fists started swinging all over the court. Lynch was banished from the contest as an aggressor.

A fairly tight contest, Franklin controlled scoring only once, in last stanza. Dropping through the bottomless hole for points were Dewey with 35 and Thomas with 14 for Franklin.

Religion in the News

By DORMAN CORDELL
PADUCAH, Ky. (AP) — "Troubled?" the classified advertisement asked. "Maybe the Bible will help. Dial 3-6271 now."

Harry B. read the ad. After 10 years of marriage and two children, Harry and his wife, Betty, were having difficulties. Harry decided divorce was the only answer.

In desperation he called the number listed in the ad.

"I believe that marriage was saved because of that telephone call," said Carlton Watkins, a Paducah contractor who answered the telephoned plea.

Watkins is a member of "God's Answering Service," a group of Paducahans who are ready at any time of day or night to help persons with spiritual problems. "Our purpose is primarily evangelistic," Watkins said. "We are interested mostly in winning persons to Christ because we believe that can solve most spiritual problems."

"Two of us went over to see Harry," Watkins said. "We told him we were not marriage counselors. We told him we did know, however, that the basic problem in his marriage was sin. He became a Christian that night. His wife was converted a few nights later."

"Today they have a happy home and they go to church and read the Bible and pray together with their children."

"God's Answering Service" is sponsored by the "Act 4:20 Club" of Margaret Hank Cumberland Presbyterian Church. Members of other churches also belong to the club and the answering service. The only membership requirement is a belief in acting upon the Biblical verse (Act 4:20) which says:

"For we cannot but speak the things which we have seen and heard."

The telephone number is that of a commercial telephone answering service. The telephone service has a list of numbers of "God's Answering Service." When an operator receives a call, she goes down the list calling members until she reaches one.

The idea of "God's Answering Service" apparently is spreading. Watkins told the story of the service to church laymen of a number of denominations at a meeting in Louisville. Right now, "God's Answering Services" are in operation or are being organized in Louisville, Atlanta, Jacksonville, Fla., and Harrisburg, Ill.

Matter of FACT

The Andes Mountains extend more than 4,500 miles from the shores of the Caribbean Sea to the southern tip of South America. They form the longest unbroken wall of mountains in the world. Snow-capped peaks range from 6,000 to 22,000 feet. Mount Aconcagua, on the border between Chile and Argentina, is the highest mountain in the Western Hemisphere. It reaches 22,835 feet above sea level.

Joe Epstein was waiting on a pair of customers near the entrance of the store when Stewart entered. He told Joe to get back or he'd shoot. Brother Sam was waiting on a customer further back in the store and Harold was in the rear with Sutter.

Harold, Sam and Sutter flooded Stewart before Joe joined them. A customer ran to Ettinger's gas station next door to notify police.

A janitor at Warren General since November 5, Stewart claimed his take home pay is $200 a month. He told Evan he recently said to his wife, "I guess I will have to hold up someone." Mrs. Stewart was quoted as saying, "I thought he was just kidding."

Investigation is being continued into Stewart's possible connection with other robberies in Warren. Evan asked Stewart upon questioning if he had a pair of cotton gloves. Stewart had, and gave them to the Chief. It is recalled that Mulen Drug was held up by a band of wearing gloves of the same description in his Jan. 30 $300 cleanup.

The Aug. 6 holdup of Glade Keystone gas station and the $800 robbery of Penn Laurel Motel Oct. 13 is being investigated with possible connections with Stewart.

No money was found on Stewart's person when picked up by officers, but a half pint of whiskey in his coat and a slip showing debts amounting to $141 was found.

Arraigned before Justice of Peace Fred Berry Saturday, Stewart failed to meet the $1,000 cash bond or $2,000 property bond for his release. He remains in Warren County jail today.

Dems Plan $100-Plate Dinner for Miss Blatt

HARRISBURG (AP)—Pennsylvania Democrats will stage a $100-a-plate dinner here May 5 as part of a day-long celebration of the inauguration of Miss Genevieve Blatt to her second term as state secretary of internal affairs.
Under Pennsylvania's Constitution, the secretary of internal affairs does not take office until the first Tuesday of May. Philadelphia, chairman of the Democratic State Finance Committee, said in a weekend statement the dinner would climax an all-day celebration.
Miss Blatt, first elected to the office in 1954, was the first woman to hold an elective statewide office in the history of the Commonwealth.

BOY SHOOTING VICTIM
NEW CASTLE (AP)—John C. Taylor, 14, of near New Castle, was fatally shot Saturday night as he and a friend, Eugene Liszka, examined three shotguns at the Taylor home. State police said Liszka was holding a .20 gauge shotgun when the fatal blast was fired. The Liszka boy, also 14, was not held.

Polio Victim Who Led An Active Life Dies

GREENVILLE (AP)—Franklin E. Gearhart, 19, a polio victim who led an active life despite partial paralysis, died today at his nearby Hadley R.D. home of complications from the disease.

Gearhart was stricken in September, 1952. He spent many months in an iron lung and later recovered enough to get around in a wheelchair.

Through a two-way telephone system, Gearhart kept up with high school studies at home and graduated from Commodore Perry Joint High School.

He was secretary of a local coin collecting club and served as publicity director for a rod and gun club.

Six Sisters All Lose Long Tresses Together

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP)—Six braids of hair, to be preserved in scrapbooks, are all that remain today of the long tresses worn until Saturday by the six Talbot sisters.

A mass cutting snipped away a total of 12 feet of hair from the heads of Freda, 6; Patty, 8; Margaret, 11; Theresa, 13; Gertrude, 15; and Delia, 18. And were they glad!

Mrs. Anthony Talbot, their mother, reported it saves a lot of time in the morning when they are getting ready for school.

Unimpressed by the sudden change in their sisters' appearances are the three Talbot boys. "What's so unusual about getting your hair cut?" asked one. "We get ours cut once a month."

Bearded Cubans Give Up on 18 Mile March

NEW YORK (AP)—Ten bearded members of the Cuban army might have marched into Manhattan—but it was too long a hike.

More than 1,000 well-wishers greeted the visiting Cubans Sunday when their plane landed at Idlewild Airport. They formed in rough marching order in front of bus carrying the soldiers.

Maj. Camilo de Cienfuegos, chief of the Cuban army's staff, climbed down from the bus to join them, but was told that the airport was 18 miles from Manhattan.

He weighed the matter a moment, then climbed back.

The bus left for Manhattan without any marchers.

Manslaughter Charge Is Facing Motorist

WASHINGTON, Pa. (AP)—Russell L. Sickles, 27, of Canonsburg, was being held on a manslaughter charge today in the traffic death of Robert Phillips, 22, of Washington.

Phillips was killed Sunday on Jefferson Ave. where he was walking with friends. Police said the car that struck Phillips failed to stop at the scene.

Several hours later Sickles was taken into custody. Police said he signed a statement admitting he was operating the auto that hit Phillips.

Water Flooded Farms Start Draining Back

LAWRENCEVILLE, Ill. (AP)—Water which covered some 33,000 acres of Illinois farm land is draining back into the Wabash River through a dynamited breach in a clay dike.

The farm land was flooded Wednesday when the swollen Wabash ousted through the levee near Russellville, about 10 miles upstream.

Farmers blasted a 100-foot long hole in the dike Saturday. The breach is on the east side of the river, across the Wabash from Vincennes, Ind. Farmers said the flow from the fields did not raise the river level, although it did slow recession of flood levels downstream.

Commissioners of the Russell Allison Drainage District said they had consented to the dynamiting of the dike, which had been built to prevent such floods.

Clare Boothe Luce Is Ambassador to Brazil

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—It's practically official now! Clare Boothe Luce is the new U. S. ambassador to Brazil.

A Foreign Office spokesman announced today the Brazilian government, responding to an inquiry from Washington, cable its agreement to the weekend to appointment of the well-known diplomat to head the embassy here.

Mrs. Luce is the wife of magazine Publisher Henry R. Luce. She was ambassador to Italy from April 1953 to November 1956.

Services Tuesday For Crash Victim Known in Warren

Funeral services will be held in Bradford at 1:30 p. m. Tuesday for Carl H. Littlefield, 45 year old resident of 35 Derrick Road, Bradford, who was fatally injured early Saturday when his car left Route 346 and struck a concrete block garage. His pastor, the Rev. Clifford E. Frost, will officiate, and interment will be made in McKean Memorial Park, Bradford Lodge 334, F. and A. M., will conduct Masonic rites at 7:00 o'clock tonight in Bradford.

Mr. Littlefield operated the service station and trailer court that bears his name on Derrick Road, east of Foster Brook. He was dead on arrival at Bradford Hospital shortly after the 3:00 a. m. crash, and Robert W. Iyer, Bradford, McKean county coroner, who said death was accidental, ascribed it to injuries including a skull fracture.

Foster Township Police Chief Earle Bridge said Mr. Littlefield, alone in his 1935 two-door hardtop, was driving east, about a mile from home, when the heavy auto left the roadway on the right side, swerved back, hit a guard rail, then struck the corner of the garage, owned by the South Penn Oil Company. The right side of the car was extensively damaged. The corner of the garage was shattered and a car inside damaged. Mr. Littlefield was driven to the hospital in the Derrick City Volunteer Fire Department ambulance.

The Sheffield native, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Littlefield, attended the Derrick City Methodist church. He was a member of Bradford Lodge 334 of Free and Accepted Masons, a life member of Bradford Chapter 260 of Royal Arch Masons, Trinity Commandery 58 of Knights Templar, and the Coudersport Consistory. He also was a member of Bradford's Moose Lodge.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Clara Mourer Littlefield; three daughters, Mrs. Janice Butler, Coudersport; Mrs. Joan Marshall, Exton; and Judith, at home; three grandchildren, Jay and Gale Butler, and Scott Marshall; his father, James Littlefield; stepmother, Mrs. Twila Littlefield, Clarendon; six brothers, Keith E. Bradford; Joseph, Starbuck; Harold E., Kent, Ohio; Robert E. North, Canton, Ohio; G. James, Murfreesboro, Tenn.; Lloyd B., Olean; three sisters, Mrs. Ruby Cattoni, Bradford; Mrs. Flossie Knapp, Warren; and Mrs. Opal DeRosia, Cooks Falls, N. Y.

Goal of Human Performance Lab At Coast Univ.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The door opens, and into the board room stalks a saber-toothed tiger. Does the vice president know how to cope with this situation?

Probably not. But his body would. It would start priming him for violent physical activity. His psychological response would be the same as that of his caveman ancestors: blood rushes to the face, hair on the back of the neck stands up, adrenalin—making possible extraordinary physical effort—flows into the blood stream.

The saber-tooth won't walk into the board room. But put in his place the vice president's arch of office rival, the man who perhaps is out for his job.

The reaction? The same: rush of blood, hair on end, adrenalin. "His primitive response," says an expert, "is to hit his rival over the head with a chair. But he can't. He has to just sit and take it."

Man hasn't changed much, physiologically, since caveman days. Finding ways to help him cope with modern stresses is the goal of the Human Performance Laboratory at UCLA. There Dr. Laurence E. Morehouse and aides study reactions to crisis situations and try to work out solutions.

"Sometimes," says Dr. Morehouse, "civilization forces us to act opposite to what experience has taught our bodies."

Take a jet pilot. When something goes wrong and he's faced with danger he, like the vice president, is primed for violence. Yet violence would ruin him. For his machine requires the most delicate guidance.

For everyday pressures, Dr. Morehouse advises: "Play for time. Give these stress feelings time to peter out. Ask questions to stall for time until you can think clearly and act calmly."

"Then, later, use up these stresses with some sort of physical workout—handball, bowling, perhaps a steam bath. Otherwise, things tend to pile up."

Billions Needed In Orbit Program Experts Declare

By JOE F. KANE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Costs of the nation's future civilian space programs will orbit at sky-high levels of billions of dollars, experts say.

A few of the price tags: Booster program for rocket motors—more than two billion dollars.

Manned space-flight program—200 million dollars.

Efforts to build a 1½ million-pound thrust engine of a single chamber—200 million dollars.

The costs were listed Thursday by National Aeronautics and Space Administration officials appearing before a Senate space subcommittee.

NASA and its companion military agency in the Pentagon, the Advanced Research Projects Agency, are spending 450-500 million dollars this year and will need 800 millions or more next year, testimony showed.

And Dr. T. Keith Glennan, NASA head, added: "Don't be surprised if NASA alone costs a billion or more a year after two years."

Space program costs this year and next will be propelled by the planned launching of 30 satellites and some 140 probing rockets, Glennan said.

On the plus side of the space ledger, Glennan said experts estimate the value of advances in meteorology and communications stemming from the satellite program will be in the billions of dollars.

Bulletins

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Wesley Ellis Jr. played just across the street from his boyhood home on a course he knew like a book and his closing 4 under-par 67 won the $20,000 Texas Open Sunday.

LONDON (AP)—The Soviet Union says the world's first atomic surface ship soon will be ready to put to sea.

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Actor Sterling Hayden and his four children are 2,600 miles on their voyage to Tahiti. They still have 1,000 miles to go.

SRINAGAR, Kashmir (AP)—Avalanches have killed 22 people in snowbound northern Kashmir in the past few weeks. There also have been heavy livestock losses.

DAMASCUS (AP)—Yugoslav President Tito pledged all-out support Sunday night for efforts by U. A. R. President Nasser to pull the Middle East out of the East-West cold war.

FAMILY Celebrates on National Holidays

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The country will celebrate on the birthdays of the three children of policeman John Francis Steffen and his wife, Arlene.

Mrs. Steffen gave birth Sunday—George Washington's birthday—to John Francis Steffen Jr.

Their first child, Francine, was born on July 4, 1956.

Their second, Nanette, was born on Memorial Day, 1957.

TURNPIKE FATALITY
BEAVER FALLS, (AP)—George W. Clark, 35, of Everett, was crushed to death Sunday under his tractor-trailer which overturned on the Pennsylvania Turnpike. Clark attempted to leap from the vehicle after a front tire blew out as the truck headed down a grade two miles east of the Beaver Valley Interchange.

FALLS TO HIS DEATH
MONACA, (AP)—Hugo Eder, 58, apparently lost his footing while dumping garbage Sunday and fell 350 feet

Chief Justice Warren Quits American Bar Association

CHICAGO (AP) — The board of governors of the American Bar Assn. Friday night accepted the resignation of Chief Justice Earl Warren, right, from the group.

Warren, 67, the 14th chief justice of the United States, had been a member of the ABA for 28 years.

In a brief statement, Ross L. Malone of Roswell, N.M. association president, said:

"The resignation of Chief Justice Earl Warren as a member of the American Bar Assn. was accepted Saturday by the board of governors of the association.

"The termination of membership was in no way related to issues the chief justice has assured me that he will cooperate with the association as he has done in the past."

Malone did not elaborate. The reference to dues in the statement apparently was in answer to earlier reports that the ABA had dropped Warren from its rolls for nonpayment of dues.

In Washington, an aide to Warren said there would be no comment from Warren.

Although Warren said he resigned from the bar group in 1957, an ABA spokesman said a letter of resignation was not received from the chief justice.

In the summer of 1957 the ABA meeting in London approved a report sharply criticizing Supreme Court decisions and called for new legislation to tighten what it called loopholes in the laws dealing with Communists. Warren attended the convention and was reported by other delegates as annoyed that the report was endorsed without any outspoken opposition.

Joseph D. Stecher, executive director of the ABA, said he received a letter early in January from Warren, informing him he had submitted his resignation in the fall of 1957.

The board of governors' action was based on Warren's January letter. The letter gave no reason for the resignation.

County Treasurer Is GOP Candidate For Prothonotary

—M Intosh Studio

Robert L. Ritchie, above, 434 Conewango Avenue, well-known 14th Ward resident, today announces his candidacy for the Republican nomination as Warren County Prothonotary, subject to the decision of the voters during the May 19 primary election.

Mr. Ritchie was born in Galeton, Potter County, June 20, 1907, and attended schools in Sheffield.

In January, 1928, he was appointed deputy sheriff by Sheriff Harry Jefferson; was elected Sheriff of Warren County in 1931 at the age of 24-years (the youngest sheriff on record at that time) and conducted a most efficient department.

"Bob" Ritchie was a successful Republican candidate for the office of County Treasurer in 1955. During his term as sheriff, it was not permitted for him to succeed himself in that office and under present law, a county treasurer may not run for another term.

From 1937 to 1947, the present county treasurer operated the B & B Smoke Shop.

Mr. Ritchie is a member of First Presbyterian Church and a vice-chairman of the Republican party (making him a familiar figure throughout the borough and county).

The candidate is married and has one daughter.

Local Man Member of I.C.S. Century Club

Louis E. Johnson, above, 116 East Street, Warren, area representative of International Correspondence Schools, has been named to the 1959 Century Club by Joseph H. Biro, vice president and sales manager. This is the fourth consecutive year that Mr. Johnson has qualified for membership in the club.

The I. C. S. Century Club is composed of the top I. C. S. Field Representatives who have achieved or surpassed their objectives in enrolling men and women for home study training.

I. C. S., the world's oldest and largest home study institution, with headquarters in Scranton, established the Club in 1925 to recognize and honor outstanding members of their Field Organization. The present Century Club represents the top echelon of more than 600 Representatives throughout the United States.

Mr. Johnson, who joined the I. C. S. Field Organization in 1942, will receive a special Century Club Membership Certificate in recognition of his work during 1958.

Busy Weekend Reported By Borough Firemen

Warren Borough fire department was kept busy over the weekend with fire hitting two local homes, one investigative run and two predoctor calls.

Fire starting in the basement of the Virginia Mangini home, 34 Water street, where members of the household were thawing out frozen water pipes, caused $1500 damage to the residence. Flames moved upward from the cellar through first and second floors, but firemen finally got things under control. Fire and water also damaged a second floor apartment in the structure occupied by Mrs. Ethel Wilson.

Defective wiring created a blaze in the basement of the Harry Drivas residence, 203 Dartmouth street Sunday morning. Firemen checked the fire with a booster line. Damages were estimated at $300 resulting from water, fire and smoke.

An investigative run was made to the home of J. J. Carter, 311 Popular street, at 4:56 a. m. Sunday where an overheated furnace motor had caused considerable alarm. Damages are unestimated, the furnace motor listed as loss.

The pnelater was summoned to 17 Swiss where Paul Zock, known to have a heart condition, was stricken at 1:12 a. m. Sunday. Firemen revived the patient and failing to locate a physician contacted the North Warren ambulance to remove Zock to Warren General Hospital. A second pnelater call was to 311 Laurel street for Eleanor Fors. The patient was removed to the hospital in the fire chief's car, Dr. Robert Donaldson, the accompanying physician.
